Shipping Transit Times From Creel of Las Vegas

Creel always strives to make sure that your product arrives within your expected timeframes. In order to estimate the time you will need for shipping, we have listed some common destinations and the time in transit to expect via OTR (over the road) or LTL (less than truckload). Timeframes for LTL do not include weekends.

Keep in mind that these timeframes are based on pickup during business hours from Creel to arrive by end of business day, during the timeframes given. A safe rule of thumb is to expect trucks to travel a maximum of 500-600miles /day, depending on weather. For full truck loads, a safe estimate for carrying capacity is about 42,000lbs.

As always, our goal is to utilize our discounts and vendor relationships to not only get you the best rate possible, but the service you expect. Keep in mind that you can expect carriers to charge fees for extras such as: Late pickup, weekend pickup or delivery, lift gate, residential delivery, pallet jack assistance, call before delivery, and guarantee times. Please let us know if your deliveries require any of these, so that we can quote accurately.
